

WORKSHEET 6

THINK-PAIR-SHARE

Since the 1960s, many things have changed and many laws have been passed to guarantee human rights for all - not only blacks but also many other groups, including women and people with special needs. However, discrimination continues to exist in our society today.

Think about following question:

What dream would Martin Luther King have if he were alive today?

- Write down your ideas.
- Pair with another student to discuss your ideas.
- Next find another pair and make a group of four. Share your ideas with them, like this:

My idea is similar to ... 's idea. We both think that ... However, I also think ... After some discussion, we decided (agreed, have come to the conclusion) that ...

During the discussion, you can ask questions for clarification:

How did you decide that? In other words, you think that ... Is that right? What do you mean by that? Can you please explain?

One of you will present your group's ideas to the whole class.

